DETAILED ACTION

1. The amendment filed on March 20, 2008 has been received.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 6, 7, 9, and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Belau (DE 10015267 A1).

Belau disclosed, as shown in fig. 1-3, an apparatus for determining a vehicle rollover, comprising: at least one inertial sensor 51, 52 for detecting a potential vehicle rollover; and a plurality of tire sensors 111, 121, 131, 141, and an arrangement that uses signals from the plurality of tire sensors to determine a plausibility of the detection of the potential vehicle rollover; wherein the tire sensors are configured as pressure sensors; and wherein the tire sensors are configured as rotational speed sensors.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Belau in view of Metzger et al. (US 5,071,259).

Belau failed to disclose wherein the plurality of tire sensors are configured as temperature sensors.

Metzger et al. teaches the use of sensor for determining temperature of the air in a vehicle tire.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to merely use the old and well known sensor for determining temperature of the air in a vehicle tire into the apparatus of Belau, as taught by Metzger et al., in order to minimize premature failure to the tire.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 12 and 13 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

7. Claim 11 is allowed.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments filed on March 20, 2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Examiner maintains the rejection is proper. Belau (DE 10015267 A1) still reads on the claim language. Belau discloses the use of inertial sensor 51, 52 and plurality of tire sensors 111, 121, 131, 141 in the detection of inclination or tilting of the vehicle which is also noted as rollover of the vehicle and sending the signals to the evaluation device 4 in determining the vehicle rollover.

9. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
